Dear Mr. Wilson:

I just wanted to send you a note and thank you again for the time and technical information you provided when I visited your new communications center the afternoon of July 2nd. I was most impressed with the Russ Bassett furniture product and feel that it is probably the best engineered and designed of the three main manufacturers that offer this type of product.

Your comments regarding ease of power, voice and data cable installation were evident as you "disassembled" various component parts in order to get a clear view of the process. The ease of getting to "everything" to do whatever seemed necessary was also outstanding.

I believe we can feel comfortable in recommending this product to our client and thank you again for the time spent that afternoon. I hope the installation is continuing well as you get ready to go "live" in the near future.

Sincerely,

H. Gibbs Reese, AIA
President
